

Name: Ar. Devi Syam

Designation: Visiting Faculty, MCAP, Thiruvananthapuram

Educational Details

B. Arch – 2009

College of Engineering, Trivandrum

M. Arch – 2015

R V College, Bangalore

About: Former Asst. Professor at Goa College of Architecture. Joined as an Asst professor in Marian College of Architecture and Planning in June 2017. Worked as a full time faculty till September 2022 and has been working as a visiting faculty since then. Hold B. arch degree from college of engineering, Trivandrum. She is a gold medallist in Masters in Urban Design. She is the founder Architect of the firm DNA Architects which has been involved in designing and execution of several master plan level projects like International schools, resorts etc. She is the Creative head of 'The Design Venue, Kerala chapter'. The Design venue is one of the top ten Institute in India with over 300 students which give Design entrance guidance for colleges across India and abroad.

Interest:

Ar. Devi Syam is interested in travelling, sketching and drawing. As an educator, she is passionate about the need to involve students in thinking independently, critically and creatively, encouraging them towards logical thinking process for practical but creative solutions.

Achievements (Awards/ Conference Presentations / Publications / Trainings)

In the year 2022, Ar. Devi syam is involved in managing and running a podcast under the name 'The Design pod' which gives you a glimpse of the Architecture and Design world. The pod telecasted over 12 episodes in last year. She is also involved in conducting Discover Design 2022 – an initiative in association with Indian Institute of Architects for which over 1000 students participated from schools all over India. In the last year, she collaborated with major universities like MIT, UID, Pearly Academy, ISDI to conduct workshops, webinars and seminars in top schools in Trivandrum